Biographical Sketch	Paul Lochner commenced work at CSIR in 1992, after completing a degree in Civil Engineering and a Masters in Environmental Science, both at the University of Cape Town. His initial work at CSIR focused on sediment dynamics and soft engineering applications in the coastal zone, in particular, beach and dune management. He conducted several shoreline erosion analyses and prepared coastal zone management plans for beaches. He also prepared wetland management plans.
----------------------------	--

As the market for environmental assessment work grew, he led Environmental Impact Assessments (EIAs), in particular for coastal resort developments and large-scale industrial developments located on the coast; and Environmental Management Plans (EMPs), in particular for wetlands, estuaries and coastal developments. He has also been involved in researching and applying higher-level approaches to environmental assessment and management, such as Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA). In 1998 and 1999, he coordinated the SEA research programme within the CSIR, and was a lead author of the Guideline Document for SEA in South Africa, published jointly by CSIR and the national Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism in February 2000.

In 1999 and 2000, he was the project manager for the legal, institutional, policy, financial and socio-economic component of the Cape Action Plan for the Environment ("CAPE"), a large-scale multi-disciplinary study to ensure the sustainable conservation of the Cape Floral Kingdom. This was funded by the Global Environmental Fund (GEF) and prepared for WWF-South Africa. The study required extensive stakeholder interaction, in particular with government institutions, leading to the development of a Strategy and Action Plan for regional conservation.

In July 2003, he was certified as an Environmental Assessment Practitioner by the Interim Certification Board for Environmental Assessment Practitioners of South Africa. In 2004 he was lead author of the Overview of IEM document in the updated Integrated Environmental Management (IEM) Information Series published by national Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism (DEAT). In 2004-2005 he was project manager for an Environmental and Social Impact Assessment (ESIA) conducted for a bauxite mine and alumina refinery in the Komi Republic (Russia), prepared in accordance with World Bank and EU policies, guidelines and standards.

He has authored several guidelines for government. In 2004, he was lead author of the Overview of IEM document in the updated Integrated Environmental Management (IEM) Information Series published by national Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism (DEAT). In 2005, he was part of the CSIR team that prepared the series entitled Guidelines for involving specialists in EIA processes for the Western Cape Department of Environmental Affairs and Development Planning (DEADP); and he authored the Guideline for Environmental Management Plans published by Western Cape government in 2005. In 2006-2007, he worked closely with the (then) Department of Minerals and Energy (DME) of South Africa to prepare a Guideline for Scoping, Environmental Impact Assessment and Environmental Management Plans for mining in South Africa.

Over the past 20 years has been closely involved with several environmental studies for industrial and port-related projects in Coega Industrial Development Zone (IDZ), near Port Elizabeth. This included the SEA for the establishment of the Coega IDZ in 1996/7, an EIA and EMP for a proposed aluminium smelter in 2002/3, and assistance with environmental permit applications for air, water and waste. At the Coega IDZ and port, he has also conducted environmental assessments for port development, LNG storage and a combined cycle gas turbine power plant, manganese export, rail development, marine pipelines, and wind energy projects.

Since 2009, he has undertaken numerous EIAs for the renewable energy sector, in particular for wind and solar photovoltaic energy projects. In these EIAs, he has been project leader and integrated the specialist findings from a range of specialist disciplines. In 2009, he led the EIA for a desalination plant in Namibia, as well as several EIAs for wind energy facilities in South Africa. He is currently project leader on two SEAs that are being undertaken for national DEA. These SEAs are to support the implementation of the Strategic Integrated Projects (SIPs) that are being promoted by the Presidential Infrastructure Coordinating Committee (PICC). The SEA for Wind and Solar Photovoltaic Energy for South Africa was completed in March 2015 and the SEA for electricity grid infrastructure commenced January 2014.

Since 2009, Paul has been the manager of the Environmental Management Services (EMS) group within CSIR. This group currently consists of approximately 20 environmental assessment practitioners and a group assistant, with offices in Stellenbosch and Durban. EMS focuses on conducting complex environmental studies in challenging environments, such as remote and data poor regions in Africa (e.g. Cameroon, Gabon, Angola, Namibia and Ethiopia). We also specialise in environmental studies for emerging and innovative technologies, drawing on research and applied scientific expertise within CSIR. Our role is to assist in ensuring the sustainability of projects in terms of environmental and social criteria, by providing a range of environmental services that extend across the project lifecycle, from the pre-feasibility stage through to feasibility, commissioning, operations and closure. We provide this service to government, international agencies, private sector and non-government organisations.

Name of Firm: CSIR
Position in Firm: Principal Consultant
Profession: Chemical Engineer (Environmental Field)
Date of Birth: 21 December 1972
Years with Firm: 6 years

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Annick Walsdorff commenced work at Basse Sambre Engineering (Belgium) in 1999, after completing a degree in Chemical Engineering and a Masters in Chemical Engineering. Her initial work at Basse Sambre covered the conception and implementation of turnkey industrial installations for national and international tender documents in the mining, gas/petrol and environmental sectors (incineration, thermolysis, pyrolysis, waste segregation) and the study of their economic feasibility. Her role mainly encompassed plant design and optimisation, dimensioning of equipments, mass and energy balance, data analysis, suppliers management and budgeting for turnkey projects.

In 2001, she accepted a position at the Chemical Engineering Department, University of Stellenbosch as a project engineer and a lecturer. She was responsible for a variety of projects in the environmental field, mainly focusing on the development and implementation of Environmental Management Systems ISO14001 and Cleaner Production processes. Annick was also responsible for the Environmental Engineering course for final year students during the 2001 and 2002 academic year.

In 2004, she joined Techpros Realising Solutions in Stellenbosch as a project and system manager. Her main responsibilities within Techpros included consulting in the implementation and maintenance of integrated business risks based management systems (self declared and standardised systems – ISO14001, ISO9001, HACCP - with an emphasis on Environmental Management Systems) in various sectors. She was the project manager and main role player in the implementation of ISO14001 for two main multi-sites in South Africa (10 wineries in the Franschhoek Valley and 12 Medi-Clinic hospitals located throughout the country).

At the end of 2005, Annick joined Environmental Resources Management Southern Africa (ERM) where she has mainly been involved in a range of environmental and due diligence audits as well as legal register review. Annick has also been extensively involved in Quantified Risk Assessment in terms of the MHI Regulations, 2001 while working at ERM. She has developed extensive project management skills and has been exposed to a multitude of environmental issues pertinent to South Africa and other African countries (Central and West Africa) in a variety of industry sectors.

Since joining the CSIR in October 2008, Annick has been involved in the drafting of an Environmental Management Plan for the operation phase of the Berg River Dam (includes a new dam for water supply to the city of Cape Town), in the environmental screening for a new coastal manganese export terminal and managing a number of Environmental Impact Assessments projects in South Africa, Namibia, Cameroon and Gabon. Her role within the CSIR Consulting and Analytical Services team primarily focus on the management of large EIAs and risk management projects.

KEY EXPERIENCE RECORD

In the last 10 years, Annick has been mainly involved with project management (including contract and budget management, resources management, planning, invoicing, client communication etc.) related to environmental compliance auditing (environmental due diligence, regulatory and corporate standards assessments), the development and implementation of environmental management systems aspects as well as the undertaking of quantified risk assessment of Major Hazard Installations (technical and project management aspects).
