SECTION A – TECHNICAL INFORMATION

1 INTRODUCTION

The Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) is one of the leading scientific research and technology development organisations in Africa. In partnership with national and international research and technology institutions, CSIR undertakes directed and multidisciplinary research and technology innovation that contributes to the improvement of the quality of life of South Africans. The CSIR's main site is in Pretoria while it is represented in other provinces of South Africa through regional offices.

2 BACKGROUND

One of the outcomes of the Mining Phakisa was the agreement amongst stakeholders on the need to Advance the Mining Cluster through Mining R&D and creating a local mining equipment manufacturing capability. It was agreed that the Department of Science and Technology (DST) would fund the mining R&D components via the adopted South African Mining Extraction Research, Development & Innovation (SAMERDI) Strategy. The vision of SAMERDI is “to maximise the sustainable returns of South Africa’s mineral wealth through collaborative research, development, innovation & implementation of mining technologies in a socially, environmentally and financially sustainable manner that is rooted in the local community and national economy.” The Mandela Mining Precinct was established by industry and government to implement the SAMERDI Strategy.
