3.1 Background

The GreenBook (www.greenbook.co.za) is an information-dense resource and planning support system offered to South African local governments to better understand their risks and vulnerabilities in relation to population growth, climate change, exposure to hazards, and vulnerability of critical resources. In addition to this, the GreenBook also provides appropriate adaptation measures that can be implemented in cities and towns, so that South African settlements are able to minimise the impact of climate hazards on communities and infrastructure, while also contributing to developmental goals.

Many users of the GreenBook in local, provincial, and national government have already received customised training on what the GreenBook entails, how to access the information, and how to integrate the evidence and adaptation actions into local plans. The need for support continues to grow. With the support of the Climate and Disaster Resilience Fund (CDRF) the GreenBook is being rolled-out to nine (9) District Municipalities (DMs) until July 2023 and involves providing technical support in terms of climate risk and climate change adaptation planning.

3.2 Scope of Work

The scope of work involves developing climate risk profiles and climate adaptation plans for nine (9) District Municipalities (see table below), based on the GreenBook data and report templates provided by the CSIR to execute this project. The scope of the support is captured below.

Province	District Municipality
Eastern Cape	Sarah Baartman DM
Free State	Thabo Mofutsanyane DM
Gauteng	Sedibeng DM
